
MEET OUR DOCTORS

MARIANNE BAILEY, DVM

Dr. Bailey is the owner of Queenstown Veterinary Hospital. She grew up in Southern Maryland and went on to graduate with a Bachelors of Science from Auburn University and then a Doctorate of Veterinary Medicine from Auburn University College of Veterinary Medicine. Her special interests include surgery and geriatric care. She currently lives in the Annapolis area. Before coming to QVH, Dr. Bailey worked in Anne Arundel County. She is a member of the American Veterinary Medical Association (AVMA), Maryland Veterinary Medicine Association (MVMA), the Anne Arundel Veterinary Association and is the founder of the Eastern Shore Veterinary Medical Association.

HEATHER MYERS, DVM

Dr. Myers grew up in central Pennsylvania. She graduated from Juniata College and then received her veterinary degree at The Ohio State University. She worked at a clinic in Ohio for one year before relocating to Maryland with her husband, Chris, where she began working at South Arundel Veterinary Hospital in 2004. She and her husband live in Chester with their Beagles Basil and Brutus.

Dr. Myers has a special interest in Dermatology and Geriatric Medicine. She loves all cats and dogs, but has a soft spot for Beagles! She enjoys running and has completed several half marathons with Dr. Bailey. She also enjoys traveling with her husband and loves reading a good book when she can find the time.

LAUREN DIVANNA, DVM

Dr. Lauren Di Vanna graduated from Virginia Maryland College of Veterinary Medicine in 2009. Immediately after vet school, she completed an internship in internal medicine and surgery at Dogs and Cats Veterinary Referral in Bowie, MD. After the internship, she was hired as an emergency clinician and worked there until September 2018. At that point, Dr. Di Vanna was looking for a change of pace from emergency medicine due to having two small children at home. She now works full time at QVH and is enjoying the world of General Practice.

Dr. Di Vanna is a Maryland native, growing up in Baltimore where her family still resides. She currently lives in Annapolis with her husband, two children, one dog and three cats. In her time outside of work, Dr. Di Vanna loves spending time with her family, travelling and trying new restaurants.

ERIN RIGGIN, DVM

An Eastern Shore native, Dr. Erin Riggin was born and raised in Chestertown, Maryland. After completing her undergraduate degree at the University of Maryland, College Park, she went on to receive her Doctorate of Veterinary Medicine from Kansas State University College of Veterinary Medicine. She is a member of the American Veterinary Medical Association, the Maryland Veterinary Medical Association and the Eastern Shore Veterinary Medical Association.

Upon graduation, Dr. Riggin moved to Baltimore City where she worked for several years with a very busy general practice, developing a special interest in general surgery and internal medicine. She currently resides in Easton with her husband, daughter, son and two dogs, Byron (a Cavalier Spaniel) and Boothe (a Golden Retriever). In her spare time, Dr. Riggin enjoys hiking, boating, cooking and woodworking.